

The Australian

13 April 2007

Page 40

T2 wins praise

PASSENGERS appear to be impressed with the $20 million redevelopment of Sydney Airport's T2 terminal. The terminal has gone from being a deserted husk in the wake of the Ansett failure to the airport's busiest facility and now caters for more than 10 million passengers annually. Airport chief executive Russell Balding said at the official opening of the new-look terminal this week that reaction to the facility had been "extremely positive".

creedys@theaustralian.com.au